Atlanta, GA, September 12, 2011: Georgia Governor, Nathan Deal, to sign Subluxation Awareness Proclamation at Capitol.

Georgia's Governor, Nathan Deal, will be signing a proclamation declaring September to be Subluxation Awareness Month. The signing will take place at the Georgia Capitol at 9 AM Thursday, September 15, 2011.

Present at the signing will be Georgia Council of Chiropractic President, Dr. Robert Braile, along with GCC Legislative Chairman, Dr. Lou Hilliard. Other prominent members and officers of GCC are expected to attend for the signing as well as chiropractic students from Life University.

The proclamation notes the health concerns of subluxations and declares September as a month of education and outreach, "...September be recognized as Subluxation Awareness Month, and that this time be highlighted by public education to raise the public consciousness about the benefits of living a life with a properly functioning nervous system, free from subluxations."

The Georgia Council of Chiropractic was founded in 1982 and represents chiropractors from all over the state of Georgia. The GCC mission statement reads, "It is the mission of the Georgia Council of Chiropractic to preserve, promote and perpetuate the chiropractic profession as a separate and distinct healing art that focuses on the detection and correction of the vertebral subluxation complex without the use of drugs or surgical procedures. Furthermore, it is our mission to aid and support our member doctors in the practice of chiropractic and to protect the health and well-being of the general public."
